How to Play

Everything you need for a merry, noisy round of charades.

Get ready

1. Print the card pages on white cardstock (or plain paper) at 100% / Actual size. Letter size; on A4 choose Fit.
2. Cut along the dashed lines. Each card has its level, its number and a coloured top band.
3. Split into 2 to 4 teams and print one team score sheet. Grab a phone timer.

Play a round

1. The actor picks a card from their level and reads it silently.
2. Start the 60-second timer. Act it out with no words, no sounds and no pointing at things in the room.
3. Your team shouts guesses. A correct guess before time runs out scores 1 point; under 30 seconds scores 2.
4. Pass the turn to the next team. The team with the most points after the last round wins.

The three levels

KIDS	FAMILY	ADULTS
40 cards. Simple actions, animals and things kids know: making a snow angel, a penguin, a snowball fight.	40 cards. Funny moments everyone has lived: untangling the lights, stepping on a toy in the dark.	40 cards. Office party and grown-up holiday life: the Secret Santa reveal, hiding the receipt.

Mixed ages? Play it this way

- Each actor picks from their own level, so a 6-year-old and grandpa both get a fair card.
- Shuffle all 120 cards together for a wild mixed round where anything can come up.
- Little ones who can't read yet: a grown-up whispers the card to them.

Host tips

- [ ] Keep each level in its own pile or envelope.
- [ ] Print a second set for two tables at once.
- [ ] Switch to Draw It mode (page 13) any time.
- [ ] Blank cards (page 15): add family jokes.

BONUS MODE

Draw It Mode

Same 120 cards, new game: draw the card instead of acting it.

How Draw It works

1. The artist picks a card and draws it on paper or a whiteboard for the team.
2. No letters, no numbers and no words in the drawing. Arrows and dashes are fine.
3. 60 seconds per card. 1 point for a correct guess, 2 points under 30 seconds.
4. Kids can act while grown-ups draw, or swap every round to keep it fresh.

Timer rules (both modes)

- One timer keeper per round, from the team that is not playing.
- Time starts when the actor or artist looks up from the card.
- A pass costs nothing but ends the turn. Saying a word of the card ends the turn with 0.
- Close calls: the timer keeper decides, and the decision stands.

Party variations

- Speed round: one team, 2 minutes, as many cards as you can.
- Silent team: the guessers may only write answers, not shout.
- Relay: one card, three actors, 20 seconds each.
- Act and draw: one player acts while a teammate draws.
